Assessment scenarios in which we thrive

Tina Tally, the Accountancy Bloomer

Tina, 56, is looking to overcome her fear of technology and move up the accountancy ladder. Tina is preparing to take her first test in 30 years and is nervous about using online proctoring.

- Hardware: Personal laptop
- Internet: Stable connection
- Dislikes: Complicated and unhelpful software
- Exam: 2-hour online proctored MCQ

Our Solution

We believe that technology should be an enabler and not a barrier. Saras™ has been built to ensure that test takers have a positive experience regardless of their technical skills. Our platform supports the creation and delivery of multiple types of high-stakes professional tests.

Assessment scenarios in which we thrive

Leah Logic, the Cybersecurity Student

Leah, 22, is a distance learner undertaking a Cybersecurity Certification course, a subject that is rapidly evolving. Today she's taking an online adaptive test from home.

- Hardware: MacBook
- Internet: Unstable connection
- Dislikes: Poor user experience
- Exam: Variable length MCQ adaptive test

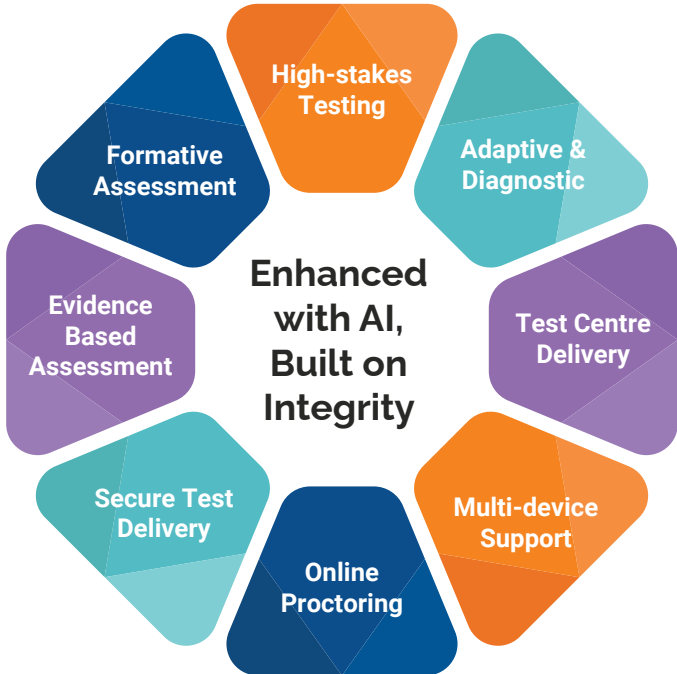

Our Solution

Saras™ is a cloud-based assessment platform that helps test publishers deliver feedback that candidates and centres will value. With Saras™, you have direct access to your content helping you keep pace with rapidly evolving workforce demands.

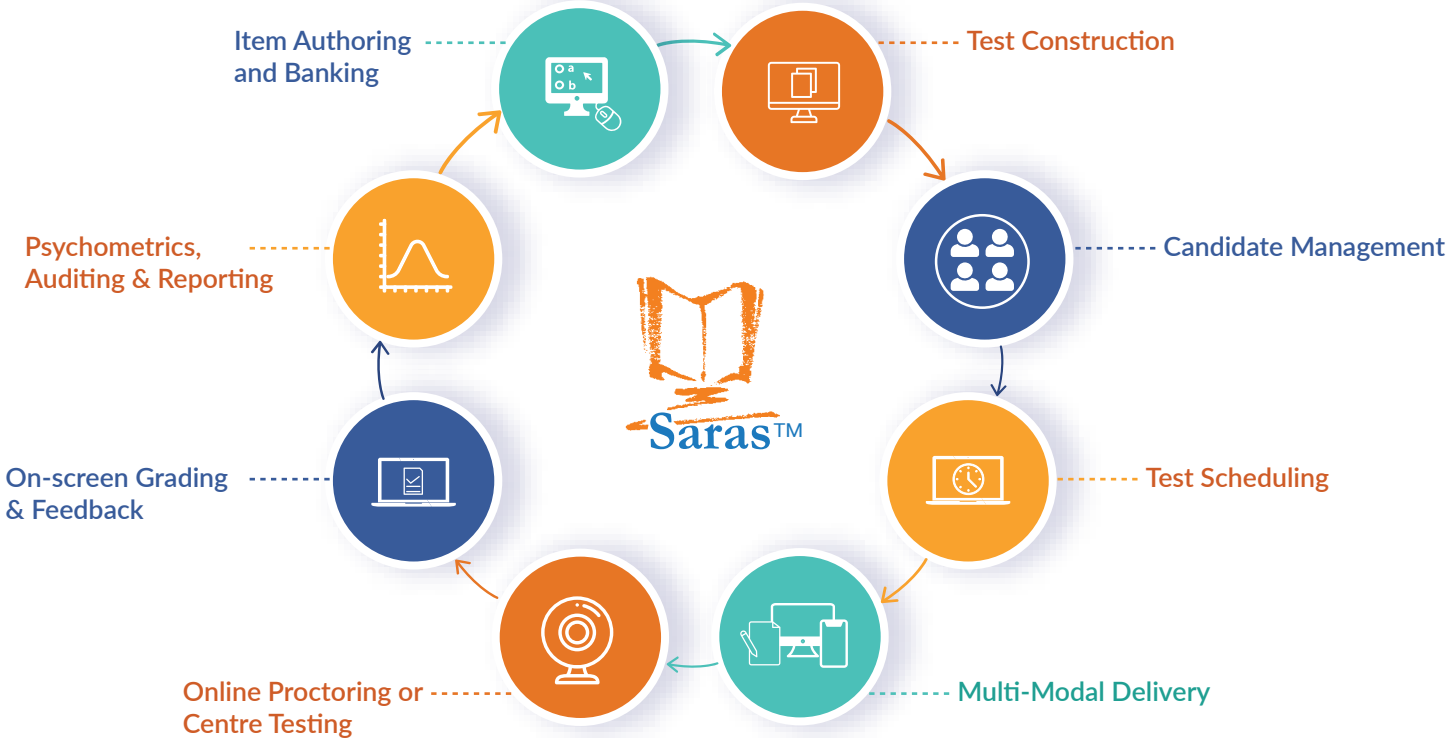

Assessment Models

Saras™ is an award-winning modular solution that provides test publishers and professional testing associations with the ability to configure the perfect test journey. With Saras™, you have complete control over what you test and where you test it, all within one trusted platform.

Assessment Workflow

Assessment scenarios in which we thrive

Hana Heal, the Nursing Student

Hana, 21, is taking a crucial exam in her journey to becoming a nurse. She is not alone today, Hana is sitting alongside 800 fellow students in a vast hall with 15,000 more at venues nationwide.

- Hardware: AO-supplied laptop and monitor
- Internet: Typically stable but with recent disruptions
- Dislikes: Typing for long periods
- Exam: 2-hour media-rich assessment

Our Solution

Saras™ supports high concurrency test delivery, with local server-based option for offline delivery, available if needed. With Saras™, you have the confidence to deliver engaging and rich testing experiences at scale.

Assessment scenarios in which we thrive

Marco Mechanic, the Gulf Gas Engineer

Marco, 34, is an engineer at a gas processing plant in the Gulf of Mexico and speaks only Spanish. This week he'll submit his last video evidence before his final summative test.

- Hardware: Windows PC
- Internet: Stable connection
- Dislikes: English only exams and platforms
- Exam: 5-minute graded video submission

Our Solution

Localisation is an essential requirement for international growth. With Saras™, you have a global platform ready for your global audience. Saras™ supports multiple assessment types giving test publishers the flexibility to accommodate multiple skill scenarios.
